

Tips for arriving to Chile and to UAI Campus Viña del Mar

Arrival at Santiago Airport

When arriving in Chile, it is important that you follow the instructions to quickly reach your destination safely. We strongly recommend exchanging Chilean Pesos or withdraw money from an ATM at the airport.

Uber is not legal at the airport in Chile, so it is not recommended to use this application upon arrival. For travelling to Viña del Mar, you have to first reach the “Terminal de buses Pajaritos” (Estación de Buses Metro Pajaritos, Avenida General Óscar Bonilla, Lo Prado, Región Metropolitana de Santiago, Chile). Then, you must take a bus to Viña del Mar. For the first part of the trip you have two alternatives: Use transportation companies which operate shared vans, or take a bus service.

We do not recommend taking taxis at the airport, since in recent months unfortunately there have been price scams to international passengers.

Transvip - Van option: You can book the ride at the counter located immediately before leaving the arrival lobby at the airport. It costs around 10 Euros/USD (10.000 CLP) (a shared service in a van with more people. Waiting time is usually around 20 minutes before leaving), and around 36 Euros/USD (36.000 CLP) in a private van from these same companies.

Centropuerto - Bus option: This option is a Bus of a similar size to a public transport one, which rides directly from the Airport to Pajaritos Station. To take Centropuerto bus, you have to leave the airport hall and head to the Bus Station (Blue on the photo at the left). The way there is clearly marked.

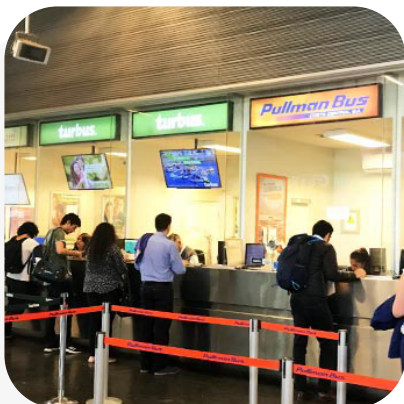

A Centropuerto ticket costs around 2 Euros/USD (2.000 CLP) and can be purchased either at the bus station at the airport or online <https://www.centropuerto.cl/terminal/booking> (If you are not Latinamerican, choose “OTR”, which stands for “Otro” in Spanish, which means “Other”).

Trip to Viña del Mar

Once you arrive to Pajaritos Station, starts the second part of this journey. You should take a bus to Viña del Mar. Approach to one of the companies' counter inside the station (Turbus, Pullman, Condorbus or Flixbus). The ticket to Viña del Mar can cost between 4 and 10 Euros/USD (4.000 and 10.000 CLP). Travel time is around 1 hour 45 minutes and 2 hours in regular traffic hours; when travelling during rush hours the travel time can be longer.

Every bus will arrive to Viña del Mar bus station, located in downtown Viña del Mar.

Moving around Viña del Mar

In Viña del Mar, Con-Con and Valparaíso public transport is cash only! Bus tickets cost between $450 and $800 CLP (less than a dollar/euro) depending on where you are heading to. Pay with $2.000 CLP bill or smaller, because drivers do not have always change.

Bus line 201-216 takes you from Valparaíso to Viña del Mar back and forth. Bus line 601-609 and 301-307 takes you from Valparaíso to Con-Con back and forth.

You can also take Uber in case you don't want to either take public transportation or walk. As Viña is small, tariffs fluctuate between 3 to 10 Euros/USD (3.000 to 10.000 CLP), and they hardly ever go over that price.

Arrival at UAI Campus Viña del Mar

The Viña del Mar Campus is at the foot of a hill, and the view is beautiful, especially at sunset as it has direct view to all the town and to the Pacific Ocean. There is no public transport to get there, but there are private UAI buses, which are free for students and professors, and leave at various times from different locations around the city.

The bus schedule and pick up points can be reviewed at this link: <https://www.uai.cl/campus/buses-de-acercamiento-vina-del-mar>

There is no need of payment or showing anything to go into the bus, but It is important to check periodically as schedules change.

To get to UAI Campus Viña del Mar from Viña del Mar bus station (or from any other location in town) we strongly recommend you take an Uber. The Campus' address is Avenida Padre Hurtado 750. Prices usually go from 3 to 6 Euros/USD (3.000 to 6.000 CLP).
